CHAMPIONSHIP INFORMATION

All championships are organised and administered by the British Automobile Racing Club (BARC) or BARC (NW Centre) in accordance with the General Championship Prescriptions of Motorsport UK and these Championship Regulations unless otherwise stated. The organisers reserve the right to issue additional statements clarifying items in the rules and regulations and all such statements will be issued to all registered drivers by posting to the address details on the registration form.

PLEASE NOTE: All times are provisional and maybe changed without notice. It is the competitor's responsibility to watch the progress of the meeting and to be in the race assembly area no later than 20 minutes prior to the start of the race. Failure to comply may result in space being given to reserves.

TCR UK CHAMPIONSHIP

NOW OR NEVER IN RACE TO BE CROWNED TCR UK CHAMPION

PHOTOS: JAKOB EBREY

Welcome to Oulton Park and Rounds 13 and 14 of the 2026 TCR UK Touring Car Championship, as the battle for one of British motorsport's most fiercely contested titles reaches a crucial stage.

With the entire TCR UK programme packed into one action-filled Saturday on the Island circuit, there will be little opportunity to catch a breath.

Qualifying and two races await, and with less than 50 points covering the championship's leading four drivers, every position matters.

Adding further intrigue, Oulton Park represents the final opportunity for competitors to drop their two lowest scores before the championship heads to Brands Hatch for its finale.

Max Hart leads the standings, 17 points ahead of Max Hall, returning to the circuit where he made his TCR UK debut in 2020. Hart's remarkable consistency - including 11 consecutive top-five finishes - has put him in command, but Hall arrives carrying serious momentum following a victory and two further podiums across the recent Donington Park weekends.

Callum Newsham sits just 27 points from the summit and has shown tremendous qualifying pace in his Hyundai Elantra N, claiming four pole positions from five events.

Double Donington winner Harry Bloor completes the leading quartet, while Brad Hutchison remains mathematically in contention and hungry for his first victory of 2026.

There are battles throughout the field, with Bloor leading Rod McGovern by only 14 points in the Tom Walker Trophy, while McGovern has an opportunity to secure the Goodyear Diamond Award.

Since arriving in Britain in 2018, the globally successful TCR concept has firmly established itself on the UK motorsport landscape, delivering close, spectacular touring car racing.

With two races, four leading title contenders and crucial championship points on offer, everything is set for a thrilling day at Oulton Park.

CIVIC CUP

EYES ON THE PRIZE FOR CIVIC CUP CONTENDERS

PHOTOS: JAKOB EBREY

Welcome to the 2026 Civic Cup, one of Britain's toughest and most fiercely contested single-make championships, as a packed grid of Honda Civic Type Rs returns from its summer break for a crucial Oulton Park double-header.

With just four races remaining, the battle for championship glory is wide open. Only 31 points separate the leading five drivers, with 216 still available across the final two weekends. Around Oulton Park's demanding Island circuit, every overtake and every position could prove vital.

Dave Marshall arrives as the man to beat. Victories at each of the past three events have propelled the DMR with KA Car Sales driver into a 24-point lead, but chasing hard is former champion and Civic Cup stalwart Alistair Camp. The Area Motorsport racer knows how to win here and, carrying no success ballast, could be a serious threat from the outset.

Just six points behind Camp, Sean McGovern and Matt Wilkins are tied for third. Rookie sensation McGovern arrives fresh from his maiden pole and victory at Donington Park, while Wilkins also tasted victory last time out and heads to Cheshire full of confidence.

Then there's teenage star Wilf Butler. A winner on his debut weekend, the Ben Sharpe Racing youngster sits just one point behind McGovern and Wilkins and leads the Paul Winfield Trophy.

Beyond the championship contenders, expect challenges from Josh Bromley, Dan Petters, Aidan Mitchell and a host of hungry young guns – particularly when the reversed grid shakes up the order for Race 2.

Qualifying kicks off Saturday's action at 10:45, with Round 14 at 13:55 before the reversed-grid Round 15 blasts into life at 16:20.

More than 30 Civics, two crucial races and five drivers firmly in the hunt. Oulton Park is ready for a Civic Cup showdown!

AUDI CUP

AUDI CUP REVVED UP TO SIGN OFF DEBUT SEASON IN STYLE

PHOTOS: JAKOB EBREY

The Audi Cup is ready for one final blast in 2026 as Maximum Motorsport's exciting one-make series heads to Oulton Park for the conclusion of its inaugural season.

Rounds 10 and 11 will see the identical two-litre Audi TTs tackle the spectacular Cheshire circuit, where fast corners, dramatic elevation changes and little margin for error provide the perfect setting for two final races.

The Audi Cup has already demonstrated exactly what it can offer. Tight technical regulations create a level playing field, placing the emphasis firmly on driver ability and producing close, hard-fought racing throughout the field.

Andrew Rogerson arrives as the man in form. The Berkshire racer has been on a charge recently, claiming four victories across the last three weekends at Pembrey, Snetterton and Donington Park. He'll be determined to finish an impressive campaign in style.

Ross Makar will have other ideas. The experienced Scot started the season with a stunning hat-trick of victories at Thruxton and will be looking to rediscover that winning form at Oulton Park.

His 4G Racing stablemate Sam Meagher also knows what it takes to win after celebrating his maiden Audi Cup success at Pembrey. Meanwhile, Iain Dowler and Patrick Booth have both come close with podium finishes and will be hunting that breakthrough victory. Mike Harris will also be pushing hard to make his first visit to the podium.

Adding an intriguing wildcard are newcomers Andrew Dyer and Alex Foden, who graduate from City Car Cup. Dyer, a previous Audi TT race winner, could be an immediate threat to the established frontrunners.

Qualifying begins at 11:50, followed by Race 1 at 15:00 and the season finale at 17:25.

With one last opportunity to make an impression, expect elbows-out action as the Audi Cup brings its first season to a spectacular conclusion at Oulton Park.

CNC HEADS SPORTS/SALOON CAR CHAMPIONSHIP

ROBERTS AND DOBSON CHASE CNC HEADS TITLE

PHOTOS: PS IMAGES

After a hectic season the title decision comes down to a straight contest between the Class D BMW M4 of Chris Roberts and the Mazda RX7 of Paul Dobson. Although separated by 9 points going into the meeting Roberts will have to drop points as only the best 11 count. Potentially the gap is a single point.

It is highly likely that the grid will be full for this meeting, the last of the 43rd season of the Championship, organised by BARC North Western Centre especially as other awards are still to be decided. The third podium position is certainly up for grabs with eight drivers still mathematically able to take the position. Mark Primett in his Class B MG Midget, Louie Dobson (yes Paul's son) in his Class F Honda Civic and Deri Davies in his Class B Darrian are in the best position to claim the spot though others who have not played their Jokers may have a say in the decision.

As far as classes are concerned, A, B and F are still up for grabs. In Class A, Andy Thomas and Ryan Nelson in their Ginettas, although Nelson does hold a slight advantage as he still has to play his joker which he can do in the first race today – it doubles his points. Primett and Davies hold the best positions to take Class B honours with multi- past champion Jamie Cryer in his ever quick Ginetta G20 ready to pick up the pieces if they are dropped.

It looks like Class F will be taken by Louie Dobson because although Rob Wakelin is just behind Louie he has had to change class after his fiery exit at Donington and a resulting engine change which moved the Honda into Class B.

To round up the classes, Class C is unlikely to have any runners this weekend and Stuart Burnett has already taken Class G as he is the only entrant this year.

So there is lot's to play for today – lets look forward to a great day's competition.
